1) Using THAT and WHICH: Click on here to watch the following video about the differences between which and that. Then, fill the gaps in the sentences using either that or which. Sometimes both answers are possible.

    a) The movie which/that I watched last week was about Brazil.
    b) The movie about Brazil, which I watched last week, was really interesting.
    c) The car, which was rapid, hit the tree.
    d) Many cars which/that were at the exposition passed by my town.

2) What's the difference between SPEAK and TALK? There are some slight differences in their usage. Check the video here on their differences and fill the gaps in the sentences with either TALK or SPEAK. Sometimes both answers are possible.

    a) My sister and I were talking about the event.
    b) Could you speak to your manager? It's imperative to solve this question.
    c) She can speak four languages!
    d) We spoke to the Ambassador at the conference.
    e) Has he talked to his friends already?

3) Dialogue practice. Practice the following dialogues with a friend, or with yourself. Listen to the audios to help you with the pronounce.

Dialogue 1: Money and Happiness

A: "Life's so boring."

B: "Well, most of the time it is, I guess."

A: "What do you think will make you happy?"

B: "I think money will make me happy."

A: "You heard people say that money doesn't guarantee happiness."

B: "It will for me. Then I can do all the things I want to do."

A: "You'll get bored eventually."

B: "Then I can find something new to do. If I don't have to worry about money, then I don't have to work."

A: "That's true, I guess. If I didn't have to work, I think I would be happy."

B: "You see... money doesn't equal happiness, but it takes away a lot of responsibilities."

Dialogue 2: What Time is it?

A: What time is it?
B: It's a quarter to five.
A: Aren't we supposed to be at Jim's house by five o'clock?
B: Five or five thirty. He said it didn't make any difference.
A: Then maybe we could pick your suit up at the cleaners.
B: Sure, we have plenty of time.