

- 1) Relaxed Speech: Relaxed speech - or blended speech - is certainly something advanced learners should practice and master. That's the way native speakers speak, and they happen all the time while we watch movies and series, listen to music or podcasts, and even while playing video games. The following video is a good start to get used to the natural speech of native speakers.
- 2) English through "Finding Nemo": The following video is an exercise based on the Pixar movie "Finding Nemo". Watch it and practice along with that.
